

SAGE Publishing, in partnership with OhioLINK, invites you to join us for a one-hour instructional session to learn more about the SAGE Business Cases collection you have access to through your OhioLINK membership.

This session, developed and presented by SAGE Publishing, will include an in-depth look at the SAGE Business Cases collection and its coverage of a variety of in-demand subjects including entrepreneurship, business ethics, diversity & inclusion in the workplace, accounting, and more. Tailored to meet the various needs of librarians, faculty, and students, these cases bring the global business environment to life and inspire researchers to develop their own best practices and prepare for professional success.

By the end of this session you will be able to:

- Explain the purpose and scope of the SAGE Business Cases collection
- Create a user profile, save searches, and build custom lists of content
- Search, browse, and filter to find specific cases in the platform
- Link cases into learning management systems, websites, and LibGuides
- Use learning objectives, teaching notes, and other supplemental materials to enhance course instruction

This session will be presented by Kathleen Saylor, Field Editor at SAGE Publishing. Kathleen is a publishing professional with 7+ years experience in developing online resources for teaching and research.

This faculty-focused session will be offered at two different times in January. If you are interested in joining, please click the link for the session you would like to attend to register in advance:
